Dear FCC Representative,
Please be advised that I personally find these attempts to "limit" the methods available for the average citizen to obtain accurate and up-to-date information regarding traffic and weather quite offensive. As a subscriber to the service that XM Radio provides I should be able to have access to that information WITHOUT having to listen to hours of dribble and other advertising that I have no interest in. I don't care about the latest diet pill fad, or which sports "star" has been arrested for whatever....I simply want to know the traffic that might be ahead of me. I DO NOT need anyone else (NAB or Congress) dictating what I hear while in my car.

Thank you for your time,

JP Wilson
